

EOI - REGISTERED NURSE ACCREDITATION COMMITTEE

Registered Nurse Accreditation Committee Member Required

The Australian Nursing and Registered Nurse Accreditation Council (ANMAC) is the independent accrediting authority for nursing and Registered nurse education under Australia's National Registration and Accreditation Scheme. ANMAC helps to protect the health and safety of the Australian community by establishing high-quality standards of nursing and Registered nurse education, training and assessment. ANMAC is responsible for facilitating the development of content for accreditation standards in consultation with our stakeholders and representatives from the professions. ANMAC is also responsible for determining whether programs of study for nurses and midwives seeking to practise in Australia meet the required accreditation standards.

ANMAC Accreditation Committees have a key role in the governance structure for the accreditation function. Their purpose is to review the outcomes of assessments undertaken by ANMAC assessment teams in relation to determining whether programs of study for nurses and midwives seeking to practise in Australia meet the required accreditation standards.

Members of the Registered Nurse Accreditation Committee include Registered nurse academics and clinical leaders from across Australia. The committee usually meets once a month via video conference. Occasional face-to-face meetings are held in Canberra. Travel costs and sitting fees are covered for the face-to-face meetings. ANMAC will provide support, induction, and training for new committee members.

Registered Nurse Accreditation Committee Vacancy

1. Academic with expertise relevant to course being accredited.

Expressing interest in a position

Please provide a succinct Curriculum Vitae and write a summary of maximum 500 words addressing the role you are applying for. Please include your general and personal competencies, leadership, governance and/or health experience.

Address your expression of interest to the Director Accreditation Services, Margaret Gatling
Email your expression of interest to accreditation@anmac.org.au by Friday 8 February 2019.

Attachments

Accreditation Committee Terms of Reference

Accreditation Services
18 January 2019